Welsh medium education in the Llanhari local cluster of schools

Do you want the best for your child?

Ysgol Llanhari is RCT's first 3-19 school and is a flagship school for Welsh medium education in this area of South East Wales. There are four schools in the cluster, namely YGGG Llantrisant, YGG Tonyrefail, Ysgol Dolau and Ysgol Llanhari. There is a clear path from the nursery to higher education here in our cluster.

1+1=2

All schools work closely together as a cluster. They share the same goals and a joint vision of providing a Welsh medium education of the highest quality for all their pupils.

95% of the pupils in Rhondda Cynon Taf's Welsh medium schools come from a non-Welsh speaking background. A very high percentage of the cluster's parents do not speak Welsh therefore, why choose Welsh medium education for your child?

- Bilingualism means that both English and Welsh are communicated to a high standard
- Obvious advantages to bilingualism in the workplace – an additional skill on your CV
- Develop an understanding of the bilingual community in South East Wales ensuring a strong identity is established
- Develop a better understanding of the culture of Wales
- If already bilingual, it is easier to learn another language

What is special about our cluster?

We celebrate:

- High expectations of pupils' attainment and behaviour
- Leaders' clear vision ensure high academic standards
- An inclusive, caring, welcoming and Welsh ethos
- The quality of teaching is consistently high
- Stimulating and interesting experiences for the pupils
- A close relationship with parents and the wider community

What if the parents do not speak Welsh?

The schools enter a partnership with parents and there is support for every parent and equal opportunity for all.

Additional advantages:

Strong links with nurseries which result in smooth transition from one phase to the other. Free transport to pupils living one and a half miles from the school (primary) and two miles (secondary). Support for parents including optional Welsh lessons.
