DWLI'S HELP FOR PARENTS:

Dwli says: Sometimes, in order to show that there is more than one of something, we find -od at the end of words. Many of these are the plurals of animals such as: camel – camelod (camel / camels); llygoden – llygod (mouse / mice).

1. Underline the plural noun ending in -od that doesn't belong in each line. Think what kind of creatures they are, where they live or look at the first letter of the word. Answer: a. mwnciod (all others begin with ll); b. eliffantod (all the others are birds); c. morfilod (the only sea creature); ch. ystlumod (all the others start with c).
2. Look at the animals in exercise 1. Write the names of 2 animals that live in hot countries like Africa: eliffantod, camelod; llewod, mwnciod. Write the names of 2 pets: cathod, cwningod, llygod, crwbanod; Write the names of 2 birds: gwylanod, tylluanod, eryrod, ceiliogod.
3. Here are the plural nouns of farm animals. Complete the list with the correct word. e.g. More than one dog = cŵn b. More than one calf = lloi; c. More than one duck – hwyaid; ch. More than one sheep – defaid; d. More than one goat = geifr; e. More than one cow – gwartheg / da; f. More than one bull – teirw.

4. Chwilair lluosog anifeiliaid.

Mae'r geiriau'n mynd i fyny, i lawr, ar draws, yn ôl ac yn lletraws.
